TEACHER OF CLASSICS

Required for September 2024

Summer Fields is one of the premier boys' prep and pre-prep schools in the country, situated in 70 acres of superb grounds in North Oxford. The school has an excellent academic reputation and is extremely well resourced.

We seek an outstanding full-time Classics teacher for years 5 to 8, who will also play a full role in the pastoral and sporting life of the school. The successful candidate will support the Head of Classics in developing and delivering schemes of work that inspire passion for the subject and develop knowledge and understanding. In addition to facilitating a happy, stimulating environment in Classics lessons, and requiring high expectations of both effort and attainment, applicants will play a full and active part in the pastoral life of the school; contribute to the daily games programme in which all boys are active; and participate in the daily activities and duties which are an important characteristic of life in a flourishing boarding school.

The successful candidate will have;

- A passion for teaching Classics at this age.
- A strong understanding of Latin and Greek.
- A strong understanding of pedagogy
- The ability to play a full role as part of a wider team (both within the Classics department and across the school).
- The capacity to participate in the daily, evening and weekend activities and duties.
- The ability to contribute to the daily games programme.
- A willingness to contribute to boarding life.

The successful candidate may already be familiar with the requirements of teaching Common Entrance Classics but this is not essential. The role is suitable for a teacher with experience of teaching Classics, or for candidates who are beginning a career in teaching.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Please apply by submitting a fully completed application form with a cover letter addressed to Mr David Faber, Headmaster. To satisfy the requirements for safer recruitment, we need to ask you for your full employment record. Details of any gaps between jobs or between finishing education and employment must be provided. Applications should be emailed to recruitment@summerfields.com by the closing date of Friday 19th January 2024.

Summer Fields is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and we expect all staff to share this commitment. Applicants must be willing to undergo child protection screening, including checks with past employers and the Disclosure and Barring Service.

The school is fully committed to the principles of equal opportunity, diversity, and inclusion. Summer Fields does not discriminate on the grounds of race or colour, nationality or national or ethnic origins, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation, pregnancy or maternity, marital or civil partnership status, gender reassignment, age, and disability. Applications are welcome from a diverse range of backgrounds.

MESSAGE FROM THE HEADMASTER, DAVID FABER MA

Thank you for your interest in Summer Fields and, in particular, in the role of Teacher of Classics. I am delighted that you are considering our school and I hope that you will wish to apply for this position once you have found out more about us.

Summer Fields was founded in 1864 by Archibald and Gertrude Maclaren at their home in north Oxford. Mrs Maclaren was a gifted classical scholar and Mr Maclaren was a fencing master and owner of an Oxford gymnasium, with a passionate belief in the importance of physical fitness. It is from these roots that our school motto was born: Mens sana in corpore sano, A healthy mind in a healthy body. The Maclarens established the importance of a breadth of education inside and outside the classroom, values which remain central to the education we offer today.

Summer Fields is a full-boarding and day school for boys aged 4 to 13. There are currently approximately 340 boys on the roll and the school is generally over-subscribed; indeed, numbers continue to rise since the opening of a new Pre-prep school in 2018. We offer excellent teaching, traditional values and exceptional pastoral care. We continue to build on a strong academic legacy with an individual focus on strengthening each boy's confidence and abilities.

Summer Fields is a special place and pastoral care is very strong. The school is a vibrant, extended family of staff and boys, living side-by-side in a busy, caring and friendly boarding community. We aim to ensure that each boy is happy, academically challenged and is taking full advantage of life at Summer Fields, with its many possibilities and opportunities. Our most recent ISI inspection, in June 2022, was glowing in all respects and is easily available online.

Summer Fields celebrated its 150th birthday in 2014 and, as well as hosting many events to celebrate this anniversary, a major redevelopment of parts of the school was completed. In particular, a spectacular new £3m building, the Salata Pavilion, providing new sport changing and other facilities, was opened in January 2016. A further recent redevelopment provides a state-of-the-art new school library, including an archive room, a periodicals room and associated teaching rooms in what is the oldest and largest teaching space in the school. The £2.5m project, completed during lockdown, included a major refurbishment of the school Chapel, as well as the DT and Learning Support areas.

The school is thriving at all levels and we have recently entered an exciting new phase in our history. In September 2018 we opened a brand new Summer Fields Pre-prep school, catering for boys from Reception to Year 3. The school is housed in a stand-alone building: Newton, one of the oldest and most historic buildings on the school's 70-acre site. The building has undergone a complete re-development, including the addition of a striking, modernist new extension; it now provides purpose-built facilities for up to 80 boys aged 4 to 8.

I recognise that a great deal of thought and time goes into preparing such an application and I assure you that I will, in turn, give your application serious consideration.

ACADEMIC RECORD

Academic standards and outcomes are high. The principal entry point to the prep school is currently in Year 4, although a few boys join in Years 5 and 6 depending on places being available; these places continue to be available following the establishment of the Pre-prep. Some 25 boys will join the prep school from the Pre-prep each year, in addition to those joining directly (both boarders and day boys) in Year 4. Admission is by selection. The aspirations of boys and parents are high and the school prides itself on the outstanding exam results achieved by our leavers. The school's greatest academic strength is excellent teaching at all levels and we are proud of the academic achievements of boys of all abilities. Each year boys pass Common Entrance and regularly win scholarships to the top public schools in the country.

BOARDING

The boarding structure is horizontal, according to age, in six lodges (boarding houses), where the boys are usually looked after by two lodge parents. Every boy has a personal tutor, responsible for overseeing all aspects of his life at school and with whom he meets regularly, one-to one. In addition, a boy can seek help from lodge parents, form takers, the Head Sister, and, of course, the Headmaster.

The school is set within 70 acres of grounds and is extremely well resourced with many outstanding and modern facilities, which are continually enhanced. In addition to the academic curriculum, sport plays an important part in the life of the school, as does music, art, design and technology, and drama; recent results in music scholarship exams, in particular, have been outstanding. All these activities, and many others, are extremely well provided for. The Chapel is at the heart of the school, both literally and figuratively.

TEACHING AT SUMMER FIELDS

The school recognises that its teachers are its most valuable asset and seeks to recruit and retain the very best qualified and most enthusiastic academic staff, who can communicate their knowledge and passion for a subject to the boys. Our teachers' primary aim is to develop the boys' intellectual curiosity, interest and enjoyment in an atmosphere of mutual respect and discipline. The supportive boarding community is particularly conducive to developing these qualities.

All members of staff are expected to show a willingness to play a full part in the life of a busy boarding and day school and to assist with, and contribute to, games, the boarding routine and other duties and activities within the wider school community.

The vast majority of staff live on site and it is possible that accommodation may be available for the successful applicant. However, it is not essential to live on site and applications are warmly welcomed from candidates who live in or close to Oxford.

The school has its own salary scheme and the salary offered will depend on ability and experience. Members of staff who have children attending the school will be eligible to receive a significant discount on the fees. Other benefits include a generous flexible pension scheme with salary exchange options, life assurance and income protection. There are also extensive continuing professional development opportunities, access to an Employee Assistance Programme, annual flu vaccination, a contributory private healthcare scheme, onsite parking, and discount on holiday activity clubs run on site.

THE DEPARTMENT

Classics lies at the very heart of Summer Fields. Greek was the specialist subject of Gertrude Maclaren, the school's founder. The subject occupied an overwhelming proportion of the timetable in the years before the introduction of the National Curriculum and Summer Fields was the starting point in the career of one of the great classicists of the twentieth century, Professor Sir Roger Mynors. In recent years Summerfieldians have won some of the most prestigious scholarships for Classics: the Annah Shaw Scholarship at Eton, the Deno Leventis Scholarship at Harrow, and the Benn Award at Charterhouse.

All pupils commence the study of Latin in Year 5 and thus have the benefit of time to gain a true understanding of the complexities and nuances of this inflected language over four years. All boys take a final examination in Latin at the end of Year 8, the majority at either scholarship or the highest Common Entrance Level (Level 3).

All pupils commence the study of Ancient Greek in Year 7 and pursue its study for two years, again either to scholarship or the highest Common Entrance level (Level 2). We strongly believe that all Summerfieldians can derive pleasure and essential skills from their Classical studies, which encourage the development of discipline and analysis, skills applicable across the curriculum. Every pupil sits examinations at the highest level of which they are capable and the department has an excellent record of results.
