Summer Fields

OXFORD

Summer Fields Pre-prep is now in its 6th year and whilst this football festival has been running for much longer than that, this is always an exciting event in the calendar for the early part of the year. Following the success of last year's festival, we are thrilled to be hosting once again, with an impressive 26 teams. It is always a pleasure to welcome pupils, whether from local schools or those further afield, and we hope that everyone has a great day. Our own Year 3s have been watching these matches since they were in Reception, and they are all more than ready for it to now be their time to compete and enjoy themselves!

The Summer Fields Pre-prep motto is 'Healthy living, happy learning' and we hope that every child here today can embrace this spirit and make the most out of a busy afternoon of fixtures. I am sure that every child taking part today will take pride in representing their school, developing existing skills or acquiring new ones. Most of all, we hope they have lots of fun, whatever the result! We do hope that all of our supporters have a great day as well, and look forward to meeting many of you across the afternoon.

This event always takes a lot of thought and planning and it would not be possible without the hard work of a large group of people to ensure it runs as smoothly as it does. As always, some very detailed planning is required and a particular mention must go to Tom Butler, our Head of PE, who has spent many hours ensuring the tournament structure works and all runs smoothly on the day! Ian Barrett, Bee Millar and Joss Gower have been busy coaching the Summer Fields boys and encouraging them at every step. We must also thank Christine Berry, Sam Skillings and Karen Watterson who have helped with organisation, Anna Clinkard for her very detailed planning behind the scenes, and grounds team for the fantastic pitches, and our catering team for their wonderful lunches and match teas.

A final thank you to all of the staff who have given up their time to help with the refereeing and scoring of the tournament.

Each Group match will be ONE period of EIGHT minutes (no half time).

Each match in the Knock-out stages will be ONE period of TEN minutes (no half time).

Positions in the group stages will be determined by the following order of preference:

- a) By the team scoring the most points (3 for a win, 1 for a draw)
- b) By the team with the best goal difference
- c) By the team scoring the most goals
- d) By the result of the match between the two teams
- e) By the toss of a coin

- g) The 3rd and 4th placed teams will go into the Plate Competition

In the knock-out stages, in the event of a draw the team with the most corners will be the winners.

If still a draw, penalty kicks will be taken (5 kicks per team then sudden death).

First Aid facilities and drinks for the players will be available at the pitches throughout the afternoon.

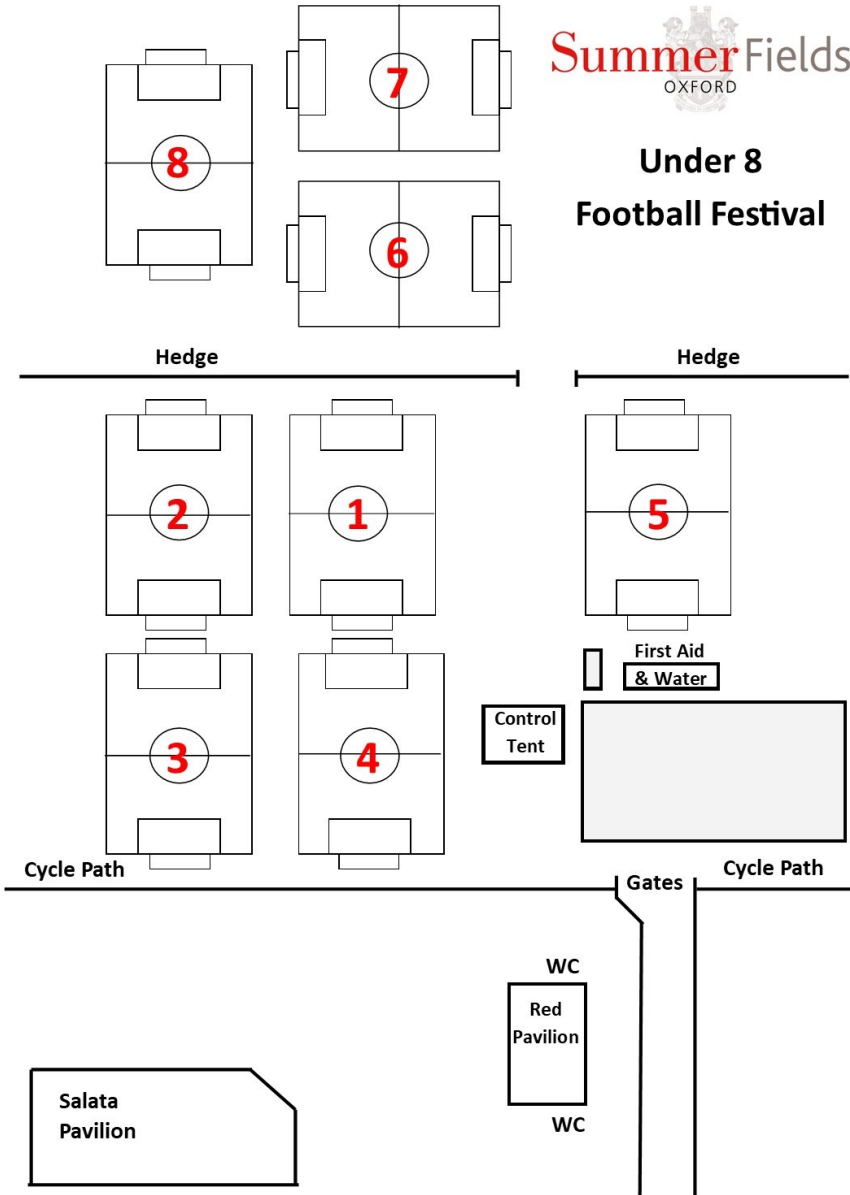

Substitutions may be made whenever the ball goes out of play.
